

Further consolidation of the media is not in the public interest. There should be further discussion by the public before any changes are made in the regulations regarding the public's airwaves. Postpone the June 2, 2003 decision. I, for one, would like more time to comment. Diversity of the air waves is a bulwark in support of the first amendment.